

Finding an Academic Position: Lived and Learned Experiences from New Faculty

When | Wednesday June 28, 2017 9:00 am to 10:30 am

Location | Vancouver General Hospital, Paetzold Multipurpose Room
899 West 12th Avenue, Vancouver

How can you improve your chances of finding a faculty position? What can you expect in the application process? This workshop will give postdocs and graduate students a sense of general processes, typical experiences and general tips when applying for faculty positions. This workshop will describe first hand experiences of newly appointed members of the UBC Faculty of Medicine. This is an interactive workshop with a designated question and answer period for panelists.

Objectives

- Learn tips on writing your academic CV and cover letter and interviewing for academia
- Identify ways to build your brand and network
- Understand typical stages of the job search and hiring process

About the speakers

Dr. Eva Oberle is an Assistant Professor with the Human Early Learning Partnership in SPPH. She completed graduate studies in developmental psychology at the University of Heidelberg, earned a PhD in educational psychology from UBC, and conducted postdoctoral research at UIC and CASEL in Chicago. Her research investigates factors linked to positive child development and strategies for promoting mental health and wellbeing in the school context in particular.

Dr. Matthias Görges is a Scientist at the BC Children's Hospital Research Institute, where he co-leads the Clinical and Community Data, Analytics, and Informatics group, and an Assistant Professor (Partner) in the Department of Anesthesiology, Pharmacology, and Therapeutics at UBC. Matthias graduated with an MSc degree in Biomedical Engineering from HAW Hamburg, Germany and obtained his PhD in Bioengineering from the University of Utah.

Dr. Skye Barbic is a registered Occupational Therapist and an Assistant Professor in the Department of Occupational Therapy and Occupational Science at the University of British Columbia (UBC). She holds an Associate Membership in the Department of Psychiatry at UBC and an appointment as a Scientist in the Centre for Health Evaluation and Outcome Sciences (CHÉOS).
